Titled Young Man Finds Musical Comedy Paying Venture.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Among the members of an English musical comedy company who arrived on the Mauretania was Viscount Dangan, the tall, slim young son of Lord Cowley, who has taken a plunge into musical comedy because there is "money in it."

"Not having any money, you see, I had to do something to earn my living," said he. "I tried sign painting and driving a handcar but in neither at first, but those things did not appeal to me so much as the stage, so I tried the halls about four years ago."

"I am 55 years old, your honor," the prisoner said. "This is my first and only offense in all my life. I used to be a manufacturing chemist, but I have been reduced to peddling soap and toilet articles. Be lenient, if you can, judge."

"Yes, I will be lenient," said Judge Landis, eyeing the prisoner quizzically. "You are required to pay a fine of 1 cent and no costs."

YOUNG MEN CLEARED OF KILLING CHICAGO GIRL.

The physician remained in custody one hour, when she asked to again take the matter up with the judge, who agreed to reconsider the case. Attorney W. A. Burke appeared for the woman, and told the court no disrespect was meant.

"In this season of the year, good fellowship is presumed to reign, and the court is inclined to be lenient," said the judge. "However, a certain dignity and respect for the courts must be maintained. No doubt the doctor acted hastily, as did the court, so the order will be dismissed."

NEWS OF FARM AND RANGE

BENEFICIAL USE OF WATER IS DEFINED

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS SET FORTH EXPLANATION OF TERM.

Doctrine of Economic Use Will Be of Importance in Future Adjudications—Public Interest to Be Served.

Under the laws of water rights as established by legislation and court decrees in the arid states of the west, the final test of a right to water for irrigation is that the water claimed shall be put to a beneficial use. As expressed by the laws of several states, "beneficial use is the basis, the measure, and the limit" of rights to water. These laws, however, do not attempt to define "beneficial use."

At a conference of the project managers of the United States reclamation service and representatives of the department of agriculture, held at Salt Lake, November 12-15, a resolution attempting such a definition was adopted. This definition is somewhat long and detailed, but in substance is as follows:

A water user is entitled to that amount of water that will render him a reasonable maximum amount of good with a reasonable economic handling of the water. He is entitled to the protection of the state in this right, but in return the state has a right to demand that he use reasonable care and judgment in conveying and using water and cultivating his crops.

The conference adopted also a definition of "economical use," which was in substance as follows:

Since the water supply available for irrigation in the western states is adequate for only a relatively small percentage of the entire irrigable acreage, the fundamental standard of economical use must be the financial results accomplished per acre foot of water applied, rather than the yield per acre irrigated. In future development the doctrine of beneficial use must in many cases merge into or be substituted by that of economic use.

The doctrine of beneficial use looks to the individual interest; that of economic use to the general welfare of society as a whole. So far as possible, water charges, systems of distribution, and regulations should be so adjusted as to make the interest of the individual water user coincide with this public interest.

Poultry Show May Fail—Though an effort is being made by Earl A. Williams to have a poultry show held at Milton this winter it is possible the move may not succeed. In order to secure the coops now owned by the Unatilla-Morrow Poultry association the new organization must pay an indebtedness of $100 which hangs over the old association. Mr. Williams is now working to this end but is complaining of lack of support from his home people.

Killed Tubercular Cows—After having been found to be infected with tuberculosis, four well bred Gallo-way cows, formerly owned by L. G. Wesley of the Vincent country, were killed on the Robert Knight place near Sunnyside Tuesday by Government Inspector H. E. Pinkerton.

The animals killed are said to have been fine specimens, but when found to be diseased, they were at once condemned to die.

Trades Wheat Land—H. M. White of Milton last week sold his 50-acre wheat farm four miles east of Weston, for 20 acres of garden land on the Sound, taking a substantial cash payment in addition to the Sound land. The new owners expect to put the Weston land to alfalfa and establish a dairy on the place.

NOTED INDIAN WOMAN DIES AT JAMESTOWN.

SEATTLE, Dec. 25.—Mrs. Wales, wife of the Prince of Wales, chief of the Clallam tribe of Indians and son of the Duke of York, the great chief of the Clallams, during the Hudson's Bay company's days on Puget Sound, is dead at Jamestown, in Clallam county, where she was visiting relatives, according to word received here.

Mrs. Wales, who was a keen business woman, assisted her husband in his long fight to secure for his tribe the rights guaranteed them by the treaty of 1855, by which the Clallams abandoned their claim to a tract of land extending from near Cape Flattery to Hood canal, accepting in place thereof 2,540 acres at Point-Ne-Point. After they abandoned their land the government failed to put the Clallams on the new reservation and for many years they have been without a home, squatting on land on Scow bay, while trying to effect a settlement from the government.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 25.—Mayor Henry W. Kiel announced he had written a letter to the Missouri state public utility commission requesting that body to enjoin the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone (Bell) company from advancing its rates in St. Louis on January 1, 1914. He asked this on the ground that the report of the public utility commission which prompted the telephone company to announce the rate increase, was meager and not the result of a thorough investigation.
